

Academic Bulletin for Granada, Spain 2023-24

Introduction

The Academic Bulletin is the CSU International Programs (IP) “catalog” and provides academic information about the program in Granada, Spain. This bulletin supersedes any previous bulletin(s) published.

CSU IP participants must read this publication in conjunction with the Academic Guide for CSU IP Participants (also known as the “Academic Guide”). The Academic Guide contains academic policies which will be applied to all IP participants while abroad. Topics include but are not limited to CSU Registration, Enrollment Requirements, Minimum/Maximum Unit Load in a Semester, Attendance, Examinations, Assignment of Grades, Grading Symbols, Credit/No Credit Option, Course Withdrawals, and other policies. The Academic Guide also contains information on academic planning, how courses get credited to your degree, and the academic reporting process including when to expect your academic report at the end of your studies abroad.

To access the Academic Guide, go to our website and click the year which pertains to your study abroad period. For general information about the Granada Program, refer to the CSU IP website under “Programs”.

The Academic Program

CSU IP is affiliated with the Universidad de Granada. IP students are enrolled in a special division of the University for foreign students, the Centro de Lenguas Modernas (known as the Centro or CLM). The CLM website is <http://www.CLM-granada.com/>. CLM courses are at the undergraduate level and primarily focus on the language, literature, history, geography, economics, politics, and culture of Spain.

Depending on their Spanish language proficiency, students are placed in one of the programs below:

- Curso Lengua y Cultura Españolas (Spanish Language and Culture Program); and
- Curso Estudios Hispánicos (Hispanic Studies Program) (for more advanced Spanish speakers).

All CSU IP participants who start their program in Granada are required to take the following:

- A one-week intensive Spanish language course (known as the Intensive Language Program or the “ILP”) which takes place before the regular semester begins (1 unit).
- Five CLM courses (15 units).

Year-long students in their second semester do not take a second ILP.

Students in their second semester may take one Facultad course if they meet language requirements, to replace one of their CLM courses.

All CSU IP participants are required to take a minimum of 15 units per semester, which amounts to a rigorous academic load, especially if one or more of the courses are taken in the regular Facultad.

Facultad Courses

No more than two Facultad courses can be taken in the spring semester and only students with upper advanced level completed (as determined by a placement exam) would be permitted to take a Facultad course.

Facultad courses may be selected from the open offerings of most of the Facultades of the University, most commonly the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras. Most Facultad courses are worth four semester units (with some exceptions depending on the number and type of contact hours). Students are advised to work with their CSU home campus advisor to select the courses that best fit their academic needs. In general, Facultad courses, rather than CLM courses, are more likely to match the needs and level of graduate students.

Important: Final exams for the spring Facultad courses are scheduled in June. Students are made aware of the final exam dates at the time of enrollment. Students enrolling in Facultad courses should be cognizant of when the final exams are since they are expected to remain in Granada until they take their exams. If this is not possible, as in the case of fall semester students, students should discuss their plans with the staff in the CSU IP Granada Office during the first week of the semester. While in some cases, professors may agree to rescheduling the final exam date to an earlier date, this should not be expected, and students should be prepared to enroll in a different course.

Grading

Spanish universities use a 10-point grading scale. At the Universidad de Granada, CSU IP uses two different grade conversions depending on the course that was taken (see below). The first table applies to Centro de Lenguas Modernas (CLM) courses. The second table applies to Facultad courses which are offered by academic departments at the University.

6.5	B-
6	C+
5	C
4.5	C-
4	D+
3.5	D
Below 3.5	F
No Presentado (NP)	WU

Students are required to attend final exams. In cases when a student does not take the final exam for a course, the student will be assigned a "NP" (No Presentado) which equates to a "WU" (Withdrawal Unauthorized) at the CSU, which is equivalent to a grade of F for GPA calculation purposes. Refer to the Academic Guide for additional grade information.

Note that when converting Spanish numeric grades to CSU grades, the Spanish grades are not rounded up. In order to receive the CSU grade, a student must receive the minimum numeric grade listed in the tables above. For example, if a student received 8.9 in a CLM course, the student would receive a B+ at the CSU. In order to receive an A-, the student must receive at least a 9.0.

Intensive Language Program (ILP)

All CSU IP students participating in the program in Granada begin with SLL 100, before taking courses at the CLM. All students must take a placement test in Granada prior to taking SLL100, in order to measure their language proficiency. Depending on the grade students get on the placement test, students will be placed in different tracks of the same course.

SLL 100 Intensive Spanish Language and Culture (1)

This is a required one-week intensive course that meets every day for three hours and begins and ends before the regular semester starts. The course provides intensive review of Spanish language necessary for study at the University. It also serves as an academic orientation as well as introduces students to Spanish culture, customs, and society. This course is taught in Spanish. Upper division.

CLM Courses

The Universidad de Granada's Centro de Lenguas Modernas offers two programs for international students:

- Curso Lengua y Cultura Españolas* (Spanish Language and Culture Program)
- Curso Estudios Hispánicos* (Hispanic Studies Program)

The Spanish placement test is used to place students in either the Lengua y Cultura Españolas program or the Estudios Hispánicos program. For test information, refer to the following document:

https://docsclm.clm-granada.com/documentacion_gap/otros_agencias/ESPECIFICACIONES_PRUEBA_NIVEL_CEH-CLCE.pdf

Curso de Lengua y Cultura Española (CLCE)

- Students placed in the CLCE program must enroll in SLL 101A, SLL102, and three other courses offered in the program at the CLM in addition to the intensive course, SLL 100. Courses in this program are taught at an intermediate level of Spanish. CLCE students are not able to take Facultad courses as they do not yet have adequate language capability.
- Year-long students who successfully complete their first semester in the CLCE program must enroll in Estudios Hispánicos courses in their second semester. In their second semester, these students must take at least one of the following courses: SLL 105 (Oral Production and Interaction Skills in Spanish), SLL 106 (Writing Texts in Spanish), or SLL 108 (Spanish Grammar II-Advanced), depending on whether they will benefit more from a course that focuses on speaking, writing, or grammar. Year-long students are also required to take a Facultad course in their second semester.

- c. In the rare case that a year-long student is not considered ready to enroll in Estudios Hispánicos courses in the spring semester, they will continue in the CLCE program and must take SLL 101B and four other CLM courses to total a minimum of 15 CSU semester units. No Facultad course would be required in this instance.

Curso de Estudios Hispánicos (CEH)

To be placed in CEH, students must already have a high level of Spanish and pass their language proficiency test at or above level CLM-6 Advanced (B2.1 in the Common European Framework). Students with near-native fluency in spoken and written Spanish may be placed in this program if they do well on their placement test.

- a. Students who are placed in the CEH program are required to enroll in at least ONE of the following courses: SLL 105 (Oral Production and Interaction Skills in Spanish), SLL 106 (Writing Texts in Spanish), SLL 108 (Spanish Grammar II-Advanced) or SLL 109 (Spanish Grammar III-Superior), except those testing into the highest proficiency level (CLM-9), for whom this requirement is waived. (Single-semester and first-semester students who are initially placed in the CEH program must also take the ILP course before the semester begins.)
- b. Students take all additional courses in the CEH program and at least one but no more than two courses per semester from the Facultades if they score CLM-8 or higher in their Spanish placement test.
- c. Year-long CEH students may consider taking Facultad courses in their first semester if they score CLM-8 or higher in their Spanish placement test.
- d. Year-long CEH students may take a maximum of four Facultad courses over the academic year, if eligible, with no more than two per semester. (Most students choose to take only one Facultad course, usually in the spring semester).

All courses are at the upper division level and are three units each as indicated in parenthesis. CLM course offerings vary each semester and from year to year, and therefore, courses may not be offered each semester or year. Some courses listed might be offered at the same day and time slot as others or in a time slot not suited to a student's schedule. In rare cases, heavy demand for a particular course might mean that space is limited and thus enrollment in that course may not be possible. For these reasons, it is important for students to build some flexibility into their academic planning. It is therefore advised that students obtain approvals from their advisors for multiple courses, wherever possible, to fulfill degree requirements especially with respect to electives and GE courses for which there will usually be several options.

The goal of each student should be to maximize their progress to graduation while in Spain and this is best achieved by a careful consideration of the CLM course descriptions and their alignment with the course descriptions on their home campus. Preparing a grid of potential equivalencies with the respective course titles and descriptions of each will help advisors approve appropriate CLM courses for home campus courses and make filling out of the required Academic Planning Form easier. It is important to remember that some courses offered in CLCE are not offered in CEH and so when seeking advising, students who expect to score at least a CLM-6 Advanced should seek approval from home campus advisors for courses listed in the CEH list only, while those likely to score lower should seek approval for courses from both lists. If in doubt, students should get options from both lists approved and included on their academic planning/advisement form.

Important: CLM courses listed in this bulletin constitute a preliminary list of courses which may be offered this fall. Some courses may not be offered due to low enrollment. For this reason, students are advised to have additional courses approved by their home CSU campus advisors. A list of courses offered in the fall will be available by the end of May. An updated list of courses and timetable (schedule of classes) will be available in July.

Centro de Lenguas Modernas:

All Course Descriptions

AIS 001 Introduction to Arabic (3) [Introducción a la lengua árabe]

This introductory course in the Arabic language aims to offer students a general view of this language. Students will learn about its origin and evolution, its geographical diversity, and some characteristics of classical and modern Arabic. In addition, students will learn some practical aspects of the language, such as the alphabet and calligraphy, as well as some basic knowledge of the language for communication purposes. Lower division.

AIS 102 Islamic Culture in Spain (3) [Cultura islámica en España]

An analysis of the significance of Islamic culture in Spanish art, literature, sociology, and history. General survey of Arab-Andalusian civilization and Arab-Islamic culture and religion. Political, social, cultural, and intellectual history of Andalusia.

ART 100 History of Art in Spain (3) [Historia del arte en España]

A general survey of the entire panorama of Spanish art from the earliest colonizers of Iberia to present. Survey includes cave art, art of the Punic and Greek settlements, Hispanic-Moslem art, Romanic and Gothic arts, Renaissance art, Baroque art, Rococo art, Neoclassic art, Goya, architecture of the 19th and 20th centuries, 19th century painting and sculpture, surrealism, and Picasso.

ART 103 Spanish Art: Renaissance and Baroque (3) [Arte español: Renacimiento-Barroco]

Surveys Spanish art from antiquity to the Renaissance. Covers architecture, sculpture, and painting, and prehistoric, Roman, Islamic and Christian Spanish art within the European context. Historical, social, political, economic, and religious factors that influenced artistic expression.

ART 104 Contemporary Spanish Art (3) [Arte español contemporáneo]

Surveys Spanish art from the Baroque to the present, focusing on painting and sculpture, with special reference to Andalusia. The great master painters of the 17th and 18th centuries, with emphasis on Velázquez, Modernism from Goya, Gaudí and Modernism, the Spanish impressionists, Picasso, and the breakdown of aesthetic values, Dalí and Surrealism, and Miró and contemporary artists.

BUS 130 Marketing Communication (3) [Comunicación de marketing]

This course attempts to provide the student with a complete and integrated vision of the different forms of business communication presently available. In this sense, it brings to light both the difficulties and the wealth of communication possibilities that can be developed.

BUS 150 International Marketing (3) [Marketing internacional]

This subject will lead the student to become familiar with the characteristics of the process of internationalization, the market entry strategies into the international markets, the process of selection of target international markets, the process of segmentation and positioning in the international markets, and decisions regarding the standardization and adaptation of the international marketing-mix.

BUS 190 Business Internship (3) [Programa de prácticas en empresas]

Course designed for advanced Estudios Hispánicos students (Level 7 or higher) interested in broadening their studies through internships in different types of business institutions. It consists of course lectures, interviews with the instructor, 45 internship hours, a final project, and an oral presentation. Usually offered in fall and spring. Course may not be repeated.

ECN 102 Economics and Business in Spain and Latin America (3) [Economía y negocios en España y América Latina]

Studies the economies of Spain and the major Latin American countries, differences in culture and the protocols for business relationships, and the language of business and economics.

ECN 105 Spanish and Latin American Economies (3) [Economía española y latinoamericana]

Offers basic information on the different economic sectors that form the Spanish economy and analyzes the economies of those Latin American countries with important economic potential.

ENV 125 Ecology and the Environment in Spain (3) [Ecología y medioambiente en España]

The course provides a theoretical understanding, via analysis, of the major environmental problems in Spain, outlining the causes of the current situation as well as future perspectives and possible forms of intervention. Case studies are used to enable the student to understand the potential, risks, opportunities, and impact of the Spanish environmental framework. Objectives will be achieved through both lectures and a series of field trips.

ENV 126 Renewable Energies (3) [Energías renovables]

The goals of this course include theoretical and practical knowledge of technological content specific to energy resources in general and, in particular, to renewable technologies. This material is designed for the application of different systems of alternative energy to generate electric energy, especially with renewable energies. Familiarity with the fundamental principles of biomass, solar thermic, photovoltaic, and wind power stations.

EGN 112 Civil and Territorial Engineering [Ingeniería Civil y Territorio]

Knowledge of the role of civil engineering infrastructures in the transformation and development of territories. The aim is a theoretical-practical knowledge through the approach to the history of civil engineering works, as well as through the analysis of the location of public works in the territory and their territorial impact. Infrastructural development will be dealt with from the knowledge of the bases of sectorial planning and its relationship with territorial planning. The incidence of civil engineering infrastructures in the different territorial and urban models will be assessed, such as transport and hydraulic infrastructures in their areas, or port infrastructures on the coast. The need for landscape integration of infrastructures in their environment will be shown, as well as urban infrastructures and services as construction elements of the city and its public spaces. In metropolitan areas, the role of transport and mobility infrastructures will be studied, as well as the current technological applications giving rise to "Smart Cities". Through the study of national and international cases, students will be given a global vision of the role of civil engineering infrastructures in the transformation and development of different territories. In addition, field visits will be made to illustrate in situ the theoretical and practical contents.

GEO 101 Social and Demographic Changes in Spain (3) [Cambios sociales y demográficos en la geografía española]

Surveys the physical, human, and economic geography of Spain. Origins and variety in the Iberian Peninsula; climate; vegetation; population distribution and migrations; origin and evolution of the cities; the Spanish economy; agriculture and industry; and tourism.

HED 150 Health Science and Public Health in Spain (3) [Ciencias de la salud y salud pública en España]

Generic view of the most important aspects of the Spanish health system and its comparison with other European systems and their institutions. Covers some specific aspects of diseases of interest, in a context of scientific and technical vocabulary. The course also aims to identify which factors and which kinds of health systems determine the level of health of a population. The relative importance of these factors will be analyzed based on national socioeconomic characteristics and interventions made for prevention and control by the public health care system.

HED 190 Internship Program in Health Centers (3) [Programa de prácticas en centros sanitarios]

This course is meant for students who are interested in expanding their knowledge about health centers by participating in an internship in such centers. Students learn how these centers function while having an opportunity to interact with health professionals. FBI background check required (State of California background check reports are not accepted). Course may not be repeated.

HST 100 History of Spain (3) [Historia de España]

A general survey of Spain from prehistoric times to the present. Political development as well as economic, social, and cultural aspects. Covers Spanish civilization, art, folklore, and regional differences.

HST 101 Spanish History from 18th Century to the Civil War and Franco (3) [De la España del XVIII a la Guerra Civil y Franco]

Study of two centuries of Spain's most important political, economic, social, and cultural developments, beginning with the establishment of the House of Bourbon and concluding with the installation of the Franco regime. This period is of utmost importance in understanding Spain today.

HST 103 The Transition: From Franco's Dictatorship to the Democracy of Today's Spain (3) [La transición: de la dictadura de Franco a la democracia de la España actual]

History of Spain from the destruction of Spanish democracy in 1931 until its reestablishment in the 1970s. Political, economic, and social changes in Spain from the end of the Civil War through the Franco dictatorship. Special attention to the characteristics of the culture and morality imposed by the regime and the influences of Western Europe in the decades of the '60s and '70s.

HST 106 Contemporary

History of America (3) [Historia contemporánea de América]

General overview of Latin American history from independence to the present. Study of the relevant aspects of nationhood: formation of the state and its political evolution, social classes, economic issues, population pressures, foreign debt, and the status of indigenous peoples.

HUM 105 Spanish Music: Society, Tradition, and Avant-garde (3) [La música española como fenómeno artístico y social: tradición y vanguardia]

The main musical genres and the evolution and development of Spain's musical heritage. Covers composers and their most relevant works, traditional music including flamenco, and popular music. Modern music: the Spanish record industry, the musical in Spain, the soundtrack in Spanish films. Urban music: Pop and Rock. Other types of music.

HUM 107 Spain and Latin America through Contemporary Cinema (3) [España e Hispanoamérica a través del cine contemporáneo]

Approach to the contemporary historical development of Spain and Latin America through film. It covers Spanish history from the postwar period (1950s), an overview of the 20th century, and the first decade of the 21st century. It also covers Latin American history from the Populist movements of the '50s to the migratory movements of the late 20th century and includes a reflection on the first decade of the 21st century.

HUM 108 History of Spanish Cinema (3) [Historia del cine español]

Focus on Spanish cinematography from the 1890s to the present, as related to cultural mythology and the social and political problems of Spain. Film will be analyzed as historical documentary and aesthetic expression. Offered fall.

HUM 109 The Art of Flamenco in Society and Culture (3) [El arte flamenco en la sociedad y la cultura]

Through the study of a significant number of songs, as well as articles, books, films, and documentaries, this course explores the poetic language of the lyrics, their association with high culture (poetry and music), the artistic nature of this musical expression, and the links between flamenco and the society and culture that are its origin and end.

HUM 111 Spanish Society: Flamenco, Folklore and Sephardic Songs (3) [Canción tradicional y sociedad española: flamenco, folclore y canción sefardí]

Exploration of the importance of different genres of traditional songs in Spanish society, with special attention given to the importance of their lyrics, as seen through songs, documentaries, and cinema.

HUM 113 History of Flamenco (3) [Historia del flamenco]

Studies folkloric, traditional, and popular music with an emphasis on music of Andalucía. Flamenco: its ethnic base, the guitar, forms of song and dance. The study of folkloric and popular music from a multidisciplinary perspective.

HUM 130 Religious Diversity and Culture in Medieval Spain (3) [Diversidad religiosa y cultural en la España medieval]

During the Middle Ages, the Iberian Peninsula was inhabited by men and women of the three monotheistic religions: Islam, Christianity, and Judaism. For many centuries, these three cultures shared cities and villages, in addition to language and some customs, under both Muslim and Christian rule, and this legacy is part of our cultural heritage. Study of the social relations, and religious and cultural backgrounds, that were found in the medieval Hispanic multicultural societies. History of the presence and relationships of the three cultures in the Iberian Peninsula, and brief analysis of the fate that each of them met with the coming of the Modern Era.

SLL 122 The Life and Works of Federico García Lorca (3)

García Lorca is not only the most translated Spanish poet and playwright of the 20th century – a title that could be partially misleading – but, according to critics and readers alike, he is a modern classic: he is the classic par excellence of recent Spanish literature, whose work is only increasing in influence and value. But Lorca, the man, is also a giant: in the sense of an extraordinary person who lived an extraordinary life, as all those who knew him agree. His life, because it was exceptional, and his death, because it was symbolic, are important. This course aims to address, in an interwoven way, the study of his literary production and his life's journey, taking advantage of the many advances and the enlightenment which Lorca's studies have brought us in recent decades, and also taking advantage of the fact that the students are in the region where he was born, grew, evolved, and died.

SLL 123 Magical Realism and Fantastical Literature [Literatura Fantástica y Realismo Mágico]

Students who choose this program may choose one of the following areas: the homeless, support for the elderly, the physically and mentally disabled, children and young people, and collaboration with the association ALCER (kidney diseases). The course consists of lectures, readings, interviews, 45 hours of volunteer work, a final project, and an oral presentation. Offered in fall and spring. FBI background check required when working with minors. Course may not be repeated.

Facultad Courses

Courses are available to CSU IP students from most of the Facultades at the Universidad de Granada and are most commonly taken in the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, the Facultad de Ciencias Económicas y Empresariales and the Facultad de Ciencias Políticas y Sociología. Only students with advanced fluency (scoring CLM-8 or above) can take Facultad courses. Some course syllabi from the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras are available in Spanish on their website: <http://filosofiayletras.ugr.es/pages/docencia/grados>

The following are Facultad courses that have been taken by CSU students in previous years. This list is only a subset of what is offered. Scheduling is not controlled by CSU IP and thus course offerings can change from year to year. Moreover, some Facultad courses listed below are only offered in the fall. In rare cases, Facultad courses may already be full when CSU IP students come to enroll. Students should thus prepare a list of several acceptable Facultad courses in collaboration with their home campus advisor in order to avoid scheduling conflicts and other contingencies that might make it impossible to take a given Facultad course while in Granada. Preparing a grid of potential equivalencies between Facultad courses and home campus courses listing the respective course titles and descriptions of each will help advisors approve appropriate potential courses and make the filling out of the required academic planning/advisement form easier.

Most Facultad courses are upper-division, although some may be lower-division, depending on course content, e.g., first-year introductory courses, music courses, and first- and second-year language courses.

Most Facultad courses are 4 units (some few exceptions) depending on the number of class meeting days per week. The term “ECTS créditos” that appears at these sites should not be confused with the units that are granted by the CSU IP.
