

Academic Bulletin for Madrid, Spain: 2016-17

Introduction

The Academic Bulletin is the CSU International Programs (IP) "catalog" and provides academic information about the program in Madrid, Spain.

IP participants must read this publication in conjunction with the two listed below.

- Academic Planning, Crediting and Reporting. This publication contains information on academic planning, how courses get credited to your degree, and the academic reporting process including when to expect your academic report at the end of your year abroad.
- Academic Policies. This publication contains academic policies which will be applied to all IP participants. Topics include but are not limited to CSU Registration, Enrollment Requirements, Minimum/Maximum Unit Load in a Semester, Attendance, Examinations, Assignment of Grades, Grading Symbols, Credit/No Credit Option and Course Withdrawals.

To access the above publications, go to our website here and click on the year that pertains to your year abroad. For general information about the Madrid Program, refer to the IP website under "Programs".

The Academic Program

The International Programs is affiliated with the Universidad Complutense de Madrid. The university offers a program for selected American universities called the Universidades Reunidas Norteamericanas (the Reunidas) with course offerings for American students focusing on the Language, Literature, History, Geography, Economics, Politics, and Culture of Spain. Instructors are drawn from the regular departments of the Universidad Complutense de Madrid, and courses are taught in Spanish. They are all generally upper-division.

In the fall semester, all IP participants enroll in a mandatory Spanish course entitled "Spanish Grammar and Composition Review," which begins shortly after orientation in late August. This course begins at least one week before the Reunidas courses begin, and continues until the middle of October.

All students are required to take one course during the year, but no more than two per semester, in the Facultad de Filología, Facultad de Filosofía, or the Facultad de Geografía e Historia. These are classes in which most of the students are Spaniards, rather than international students from US colleges and universities. Many students wait until their second semester to take their Facultad course so as to have time to strengthen their language skills. Graduate students are advised to work with their home campus advisor to select the courses that best fit their academic needs. In general, Facultad courses will be more likely to match the needs and level of graduate students.

All CSU IP participants are required to take a minimum of 15 units per semester, which amounts to a rigorous academic load, especially if one or more of the courses are taken in the regular Facultad.

Below is an example of the academic schedule for a student in Madrid:

Semester 1 (Fall Semester: late August to mid-December)

Spanish Grammar and Composition Review (Aug/Sep-Oct)	3
3 Reunidas courses	9
1 Facultad course* (or a 4 th Reunidas course)	3
Minimum number of units required per semester:	15

Semester 2 (Spring Semester: early February to late June)

4 Reunidas courses	12
1 Facultad course (or a 5 th Reunidas course)	3
Minimum number of units required per semester:	15

*Students are required to take at least one Facultad course during the year (either in the fall or spring).

Regular university or Facultad courses generally start a week later than Reunidas courses, and Spring Semester courses may not hold their exams until late June. Students enrolled in a Facultad course in the Spring Semester should not plan their departure until after that time.

Academic Year Courses: Reunidas

The following courses are generally offered by the Reunidas program. The year is divided into two separate semesters, Fall and Spring. Only one course, Advanced Grammar, is usually offered both semesters; all others are offered only in the fall ("A" courses) or in the spring ("B" courses). Additional courses may be offered during any particular year, and some previously announced courses may not be offered. For this reason, it is important for students to have some flexibility in their academic planning. All courses are generally upper-division. CSU units are listed in parenthesis after the course title.

CSU IP Madrid Course Coding: Reunidas

Courses numbered 100 to 199 are upper division.

- SLL 110 Spanish Cinema (3) [Cine español]
Overview of the Spanish cinema from the fifties to the present. As Spanish cinema is understood as a cultural expression of a specific social and historical context, this course provides a theoretical frame to facilitate a deep understanding of the cultural and artistic film discourse within Spanish society. Films provide an opportunity to reflect on diverse and relevant Spanish social themes, including social classes during Franco era, autonomous regions and groups in Spain, migration and multiculturalism in contemporary Spain, poverty and the marginalization of youth, women's role and place in Spanish society, unemployment and society, and youth perspectives and initiation, among others. Advanced Spanish level is required as films do not have English subtitles. Well-developed oral and listening skills are necessary to do well in this class. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 113 Contemporary Spanish Literature (3) [Literatura española contemporánea]
Overview of Spanish poetry, fiction, and plays of the 20th century. Historical perspective on the most important literary movements of the century. The time periods include: the early 20th century, the period 1920-1936, the post-war period, 1950-1979, and 1980 to the present. Authors such as Valle-Inclán, Baroja, Unamuno, Antonio Machado, J.R. Jiménez, the Generación of 27 authors, García Lorca, Miguel Mihura, Rosales, Blas de Otero, A. González, Gil de Biedma, and others will be studied. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 116 Contemporary Spanish Theater Workshop (3) [Taller de teatro español contemporáneo]
Survey of contemporary Spanish theater including most relevant moments of the 20th century in addition to selected works and authors of the 21st century. Emphasis is placed on works from before and after the Spanish Civil War period and on works from 1975 to the present. Students develop writing skills as they compose a short sketch and oral skills as they reenact sections of important works. Students participate in a public presentation at the end of the course. (Offered Fall.)
- SLL 132 Spanish Theater in the Golden Age (3) [Teatro español del siglo de oro]
A survey of the social, historical and literary context of the Golden Age of theater, 16th and 17th centuries, as well as its value as social entertainment. Works by Cervantes, Lope de Vega, Tirso de Molina, Moreto, and Calderón will be studied. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 150 Women in Spanish Literature (3) [La mujer en la literatura española]
A study of different images of women in Hispanic literature from the Middle Ages to the present, with an emphasis on 20th century literature. Texts by both men and women will include the Celestina and works by Luis Vives, Fray Luis de León, Cervantes, Leandro Fernández de Moratín, Gómez de Avellaneda, Rosalía de Castro, Concepción Arenal, Carmen de Burgos, María de Maeztu, Carmen Martín Gaité, Ana María Matute, Carmen Riera, Esther Tusquets, Lourdes Ortiz, Paloma Pedrero, and others. These texts will be studied from a sociological perspective, and different feminist approaches will be discussed. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 154A Comparative Syntax: English-Spanish I (3) [Sintaxis comparada: inglés-español I]
An in-depth study of Spanish grammar and syntax in comparison with their counterparts in English. Attention will be focused on those areas where English speakers have the most difficulty perfecting written and spoken Spanish. Includes verbs like "ser" and "estar;" the reflexive use of "se;" prepositions "por" and "para;" use of verb tenses; and dependent clauses. This course requires an advanced level of language preparation. (Offered Fall.)

- SLL 154B Comparative Syntax: English-Spanish II (3) [Sintaxis comparada: inglés-español II]
This course covers diverse aspects of Spanish syntax difficult for native English speakers. The main topics are: morphological verb differences between Spanish and English; verbal periphrases with corresponding equivalents in English; English nominalization in relation to Spanish verb usage, prenominal verbs, passive voice, word order in Spanish and English; syntax and semantics of motion: mode and direction; useful structures and expressions, and false cognates. This course requires an advanced level of language preparation. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 155 Spanish Dialectology (3) [Dialectología del español]
The study of languages and dialects; formation of languages and dialects in Spain; stages in the development of Spanish; dialects of Andalusia, Extremadura, Murcia, and the Canary Islands; Spanish in Latin America (regions, phonetic, morphology, lexicology, etc.); Spanish in the United States, and Sephardic Spanish. (Offered Spring.)
- SLL 160 Advanced Conversation and Composition in Spanish for Bilingual Speakers (3) [Conversación y composición avanzada en español para hablantes bilingües]
The course is designed for Spanish-English bilingual speakers with emphasis on the development of oral, reading and composition skills. Course objectives are to focus on the development of advanced knowledge of Spanish oral and written expression, writing skills and composition, the development of formal and academic Spanish registers and conventions, and the identification of different varieties of Spanish and their use in appropriate contexts.
- SLL 170 Spanish Phonetics (3) [Fonética española]
A systematic study of the place and manner of articulation of Spanish sounds. Introduction to the concepts of phones, phonemes, and phonological processes by which sounds are modified in fluid speech. (May be offered Fall and Spring.)
- SSC 100 Cultures of Spain (3) [Culturas de España]
The study of diverse cultures in contemporary Spain from a sociological, anthropological, literary, and historical-political perspective. The course aims to offer key knowledge that will allow the student to understand contemporary Spanish identity. A synchronic vision will be developed, based on the 20th century and contemporary post-modernity. Historical background will be provided when necessary. The course is complemented with cultural offerings in Madrid, Spain's capital. The course will develop the student's critical capacity by discussing in-depth topics and themes of Spanish cultural tradition. No prior knowledge of Spanish culture is necessary. A minimum of intermediate-high level of Spanish is required. (Offered Spring.)

Academic Year Courses: Facultad

All students are required to take at least one Facultad course during the academic year abroad. No more than two Facultad courses can be taken in a semester and only students with advanced fluency would be advised to take a Facultad course in the fall semester. As only five non-Spanish students are permitted to enroll in any given Facultad course, CSU students may not be able to register for their first choice, so should select alternatives with their home campus advisors. Since the Universidad Complutense announces current course offerings in September of each year, students should focus on first-year, second-year, and elective courses in the Facultades.

The courses available to CSU students are in the departments of three Facultades at the Complutense: Filología, Filosofía and Geografía e Historia. Students [JFH1] are not permitted to take courses from other Facultades.

Many course syllabi are available online in Spanish at the following websites:

The following are courses that have been taken by CSU students in previous years. This list is only a subset of what is offered. Information and offerings can change from year to year. Students planning to take specific courses should prepare a list of several acceptable courses in collaboration with a home campus advisor in order to avoid scheduling conflicts and other contingencies.

Most Facultad courses are upper-division, although some may be lower-division, depending on course content, e.g. first year introductory courses, music courses, and first and second year language courses.

Facultad courses may be either 3 or 4 units, depending on the number of class meeting days per week. The term "ECTS créditos" that appears at these sites should not be confused with the units that are granted by the CSU IP.
