Academic Bulletin for Granada, Spain: 2017-18

Introduction
The Academic Bulletin is the CSU International Programs (IP) “catalog” and provides academic information about the program in Granada, Spain. This bulletin supersedes the previous bulletins dated April 27 and October 12, 2017.

CSU IP participants must read this publication in conjunction with the two listed below.

- Academic Planning, Crediting and Reporting. This publication contains information on academic planning, how courses get credited to your degree, and the academic reporting process including when to expect your academic report at the end of your year abroad.

- Academic Policies. This publication contains academic policies which will be applied to all IP participants. Topics include but are not limited to CSU Registration, Enrollment Requirements, Minimum/Maximum Unit Load in a Semester, Attendance, Examinations, Assignment of Grades, Grading Symbols, Credit/No Credit Option and Course Withdrawals.

To access the above publications, go to our website here and click on the year that pertains to your year abroad. For general information about the Granada Program, refer to the CSU IP website under “Programs”.

The Academic Program

CSU IP is affiliated with the Universidad de Granada. IP students are enrolled in a special division of the University for foreign students, the Centro de Lenguas Modernas (known as Centro or CLM). The CLM website is http://www.clm-granada.com/.

Courses are at the undergraduate level and focus on the language, literature, history, geography, economics, politics, and culture of Spain. All students are required to take at least one regular Universidad de Granada course during the year, but no more than two courses per semester, from the open offerings of most of the Facultades of the University, most commonly the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras. These are referred to as Facultad courses and are worth 3 or 4 semester units.

Graduate students are advised to work with their CSU home campus advisor to select the courses that best fit their academic needs. In general, Facultad courses are more likely to match the needs and level of graduate students.

Each semester, students enroll in a minimum of 15 units. Before the fall semester begins, students take an intensive 4 unit Spanish language course SLL 100 (also known as the Preparatory Language Program or “PLP”) which CSU IP considers part of the fall semester load of a minimum of 15 units.

Below is an example of the academic schedule for the year in Granada, Spain:

Semester 1: Fall Semester (September to late December)

*The CLM may offer a few intensive courses in the month of January depending on demand. Enrollment in these courses are optional and if taken, are applied towards Semester 1 (fall semester).

In Semester 2, Facultad courses do not finish until late June or mid-July. Students enrolling in those courses must not plan their departure until after that time.
Grading System

Spanish universities use a 10-point grading scale. At the Universidad de Granada, CSU IP uses two different grade conversions depending on the course that was taken (see below). The first table applies to Centro de Lenguas Modernas (CLM) courses. The second table applies to Facultad courses which are offered by academic departments at the University.

Students are required to attend final exams. In cases when a student does not take the final exam for a course, the student will be assigned a “NP” (No Presentado) which equates to a “WU” (Withdrawal Unauthorized) at the CSU which is equivalent to a grade of F for GPA calculation purposes.

Note that when converting Spanish numeric grades to CSU grades, the Spanish grades are not rounded up. In order to receive the CSU grade, the student must receive the minimum numeric grade listed in the tables above. For example, if a student received 8.9 in a CLM course, the student would receive a B+ at the CSU. In order to receive an A-, the student must receive at least a 9.0.

Preparatory Language Program (PLP): Centro

All CSU IP students participating in the program in Granada begin their year by attending the Preparatory Language Program (SLL 100), which takes place in September. This course is reported as part of the fall semester. All students must take a placement test in Granada prior to the class in order to measure their language proficiency. According to this placement test students will be placed on different tracks of the same course.

SLL 100 Spanish Language and Culture (4)
Intensive instruction in grammar, composition and conversation (placement determined by examination), and an introduction to Spanish culture, history, customs, politics and society. Upper division.

Academic Year Courses: Centro

The University of Granada’s Centro de Lenguas Modernas offers two programs for international students:

a. Lengua y Cultura Españolas program (Spanish Language and Culture Program)
b. Estudios Hispanicos program (Hispanic Studies Program)

The Spanish placement test (described above) is also used in the fall semester to place students in either the Lengua y Cultura Españolas program or the Estudios Hispanicos program. For test level information and other information, refer to their website at http://www.clm-granada.com/html/c_espanol/ing/ceh/ceh_info.htm.
Curso de Lengua y Cultura Española (CLCE)
Students placed in CLCE program in the fall must enroll in SLL 101A, SLL102, and two courses offered in the program in addition to the Intensive Language course. Courses in this program are taught at an intermediate level of Spanish. CLCE students are not able to take Facultad courses in the fall semester as they do not yet have adequate language capability.

a. Students who successfully complete the CLCE program in the fall may enroll in Estudios Hispánicos courses in the spring semester.

b. In the spring semester students take SLL 101B, and usually three other CLM courses and one Facultad course.

c. CLCE students may take a maximum of two Facultad courses over the academic year.

Curso de Estudios Hispánicos (CEH)
To be placed in CEH, students must already have a high level of Spanish and pass their language proficiency test at or above level CLM-6 Advanced (B2.1 in the Common European Framework). Students with near-native fluency in spoken and written Spanish may be placed in this program if they do well on their placement test.

a. Students placed in the CEH program in the fall must enroll in SLL 101A, Speaking and Writing Skills I, except those testing into the highest proficiency level (CLM-9), for whom this course is optional.

b. Students take 3 or 4 additional courses in the CEH program or the Facultades in the fall semester.

c. CEH students may consider taking Facultad courses in the fall semester if they score CLM-8 or higher in their Spanish placement test.

d. CEH students may take a maximum of four Facultad courses over the academic year, if eligible, with no more than two per semester (most students choose to take only one Facultad course and in the spring).

Take into consideration that some of the following courses are offered both semesters; some are offered only in the fall, or in the spring. All courses are at the upper division level, and are three units each as indicated in parenthesis. Courses are subject to change. Because some courses that are offered in CLCE are not offered in CEH, when seeking advising, students who expect to score at least a CLM-6 Advanced should seek approval from home campus advisors for courses listed in the CEH list only, while those likely to score lower should seek approval for courses from both lists - if in doubt, they should get options from both lists approved.

Academic Year Courses: Facultad

All students are required to take at least one course outside of the Centro de Lenguas Modernas during the academic year, with a maximum of two per semester. Courses are available to CSU students from most of the Facultades at the Universidad de Granada and are most commonly taken in the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras, the Facultad de Ciencias Económicas y Empresariales and the Facultad de Ciencias Políticas y Sociología. Only students with advanced fluency (scoring CLM-8 or above) can take a Facultad course during the Fall Semester.

Note the following:

Some course syllabi from the Facultad de Filosofía y Letras are available in Spanish on their website: http://filosofialeyletras.ugr.es/pages/docencia/grados
The following are courses that have been taken by CSU students in previous years. This list is only a subset of what is offered. Information and offerings can change from year to year. Some of the courses are only offered in the fall semester. Students planning to take specific courses should prepare a list of several acceptable courses in collaboration with their home campus advisor in order to avoid scheduling conflicts and other contingencies that make it impossible to take a given course while in Granada.

Most Facultad courses are upper-division, although some may be lower-division, depending on course content, e.g. first year introductory courses, music courses, and first and second year language courses.

All Facultad courses are 3 or 4 units depending on the number of class meeting days per week. The term “ECTS créditos” that appears at these sites should not be confused with the units that are granted by the CSU IP.
